

College Composition I - ENG 111 (2022)

Writing Processes:
Writers use multiple composing processes to conceptualize, develop, and finalize projects. Composing processes are seldom linear and are also flexible. Successful writers can adapt their composing processes to different genres, contexts, and occasions. 1

- 1 Demonstrate the ability to use a recursive writing process to create a variety of academic texts, including at least one essay that incorporates and correctly documents outside sources, producing a total of at least 4500 words (approximately 15 pages) of polished, graded writing. 1.1
- 2 Use prewriting strategies to plan assignments (e.g., selecting/refining topics, brainstorming, organizing ideas). 1.2
- 3 Create multiple drafts of an assignment, and revise according to feedback from peers and others to improve development, organization, documentation, and clarity of writing. 1.3
- 4 Reflect on assignments and writing processes. 1.4
- 5 Incorporate appropriate, college-level vocabulary in writing. 1.5
- 6 Edit writing with consideration to surface features, including syntax, usage, punctuation, and spelling appropriate to the rhetorical situation. 1.6

Rhetorical Knowledge:
Rhetorical knowledge is the ability to analyze writing, reading, and speaking occasions and then make strategic choices to negotiate the rhetorical situation. Rhetorical knowledge includes the ability to demonstrate command of purpose, audience, and context. 2

- 1 Demonstrate a clear understanding of rhetorical concepts. 2.1
- 2 Use key rhetorical concepts to discuss writing, reading and speaking occasions. 2.2
- 3 Analyze the purpose, audience, and context of a wide variety of texts. 2.3
- 4 Make and discuss composing choices appropriate to purpose, audience, and context. 2.4
- 5 Demonstrate understanding of and use a variety of genres and media to address a range of audiences. 2.5
